SHAQUEY WRAGG ADDS NEW LEADERSHIP ROLE TO RESUMÉ

Office of the State Inspector General Senior Auditor Shaquay Wragg has taken on a new leadership role as President-Elect for the Institute of Internal Auditors' Central Virginia Chapter.

After serving 2 years as treasurer, as President-Elect, Wragg will familiarize herself with the core responsibilities of the President in the event the President is unable to conduct business due to an absence or unforeseen circumstance. She will learn to oversee the operations and activities of the chapter's committees, which include providing educational programs to internal auditors to improve their auditing competency and effectiveness. Wragg will serve as President-Elect for one year before assuming the role of President.

"I am proud to serve the Central Virginia Chapter of IIA," said Wragg. "I see this year as an opportunity to serve my fellow auditors as well as promote the auditing profession."

"We are proud of Shaquay for taking this opportunity to refine her leadership skills," said State Inspector General Michael C. Westfall. "Her achievements will continue to benefit IIA, as well as OSIG and those we serve."

The Institute of Internal Auditors has 159 chapters serving more than 70,000 members in North America. The IIA Central Virginia Chapter boasts more than 650 members, provides more than 40 hours annually of continuing professional education and development opportunities, and shares best practices with auditors throughout the region.
